THEY CAN PROMISE ANYTHING — EVEN FUN

Canada's voting population is being plagued with promises for the Nov. 8 federal election, but there is an election coming up in Kelowna where the promises are not quite so logical. It is

"Election-Mania", in conjunction with the Okanagan-Mainline Jaycees Fall Congress, to be held in the Royal Anne Hotel, Saturday and Sunday, and is sponsored by the Kelowna and District

Jaycees. The candidates include such people as Real Coward, of the PLQ (Protestant Liberal Quaker) section of the Ogonopolist party, and others, from Kamloops

Fierce Gales Play Havoc In Northern Europe Seas

LONDON (CP) — A blazing British freighter, threatened by gales as well as flames, steamed through heavy Atlantic waves today toward Ireland.

The 6,000-ton British vessel Newfoundland, originally bound for Halifax, turned back in a gale 400 miles out from Britain Tuesday as the fire blazed in a hold.

A spokesman for the vessel's owners said all 30 men aboard appeared to be safe. "But we cannot say that about fire at sea."

Delayed by 75-mile-an-hour gales at Liverpool, England, the Canadian Pacific liner Empress of England, carrying more than 500 passengers, sailed Tuesday night, 30 hours behind schedule on its last voyage of the season up the St. Lawrence River to Montreal.

Another British freighter, chartered to the Saguenay Shipping Co. of Montreal, rescued the 16-man crew of the Polish yacht Walpolska during a Baltic gale Tuesday. The yacht, in full sail, then rode the gale for 30 hours without a man aboard.

The freighter was on a Baltic trip carrying aluminium from Canada.

Gales paralysed coastal shipping in Denmark and southern Sweden and flooded several towns in Jutland.

Dikes broke at several points along the North Sea coast of Jutland and the town of Lemvig and Løgstør were under two feet of water.

Viet Cong Swarm On Outpost But Air Attack Crushes Bid

SAIGON (AP) — Hundreds of Viet Cong guerrillas swarmed down from the mountains above coastal Quang Ngai today and made an unsuccessful attempt to overrun a South Vietnamese government outpost.

U.S. sources said an estimated 800 to 900 guerrillas attacked the outpost three miles northeast of Quang Ngai, in central South Viet Nam. U.S. jets bombed and strafed the Viet Cong as they retreated at daylight, but there was no estimate of enemy casualties.

Moderate casualties were reported among the outpost's defenders.

In the Mekong delta a government river assault group killed an armed guerrilla sampan with machine-gun fire. A spokesman said the group killed three Viet Cong and captured a large quantity of arms and ammunition.

U.S. troops continued to sweep the jungles near the special forces camp of Plei Me in the central highlands, looking for the guerrillas who have been besieging the camp.

Pacifist Burns Self To Death As Protest At U.S. Policies

WASHINGTON (AP) — A pacifist sacrificed himself in flames in front of the Pentagon Tuesday to protest the U.S. government's "deep military involvement" in Viet Nam.

Norman H. Morrison, a Baltimore Quaker, clutched his one-year-old baby daughter Emily in one arm as he began to burn. Screaming of "drop the bomb" from onlookers may have saved her life, for the fell uninjured to the ground.

Morrison, 31, drenched in kerosene, was a human torch in full view of hundreds of defence department workers and military men.

It was dusk and the Pentagon's thousands were streaming for home.

He had picked a spot within sight of Defence Secretary Robert McNamara's office window. But McNamara, in his office at the time, was unaware of the incident.

Army Maj. Richard Lundquist said Morrison "yelled something" as he stood on a concrete abutment.

Heiress Weds In Jo'burg

JOHANNESBURG (AP) — Before a congregation of millionaires and non-millionaires, heiress Mary Oppenheimer married a Scotsman today in South Africa's wedding of the century.

About 1,000 guests were invited to the Anglican cathedral for the marriage of mining magnate Harry Oppenheimer's shy, 21-year-old daughter to Scotsman Gordon Waddell, 29, a former rugby player and the son of a wealthy Glasgow stockbroker.

The bride chose a gown of classic design in white duchesse satin with a 12-foot train from the shoulder and a bouquet of orchids and lily.

A few of the non-whites whom Miss Oppenheimer met in social work were invited to the ceremony but not to the reception. She had wanted them to be present also at the caviar-and-champagne affair but abandoned the idea because South Africa's Apartheid (race-separation) laws prohibit serving alcoholic beverages to non-whites and whites together.

For the reception in the spacious gardens of Brenthurst, the Oppenheimer estate, there were a 20-piece orchestra, 130 gallons of French champagne, Scotch salmon, Australian prawns and asparagus, South African rock lobster, caviar and a 200-pound, five-tier wedding cake.

More Purged In Indonesia

JAKARTA (CP) — The army's purge of Communists in Indonesia was reported today to have spread to Parliament, the universities and more government agencies.

The official news agency Antara said 57 representatives of the Indonesian Communist party had been dismissed "temporarily" from the House of Representatives — an advisory body — and 14 Communist or pro-Communist universities and colleges had been closed in the continuing aftermath of the attempted Oct. 1 coup.

More than 1,300 Communists were fired by the maritime ministry, the army-controlled agency reported.

Among the Communists ousted from Parliament were two of the party's top three men, M. H. Lukman and Noto. Both are members of President Sukarno's cabinet. The party chief, D. N. Aidit, has been in hiding since the coup attempt.

Antara said the Jakarta military command had requested government agencies and institutions under its jurisdiction to suspend all personnel who are members of the Communist party, the pro-Peking PKI.

Indonesian crowds tore down the Chinese Communist flag and damaged the cost of arms in a wild demonstration outside the Chinese consulate in Medan, North Sumatra.

RHODESIA PLAN

The British government has agreed to a sounding out of popular feeling in Rhodesia on the question of independence based on the present constitution, Prime Minister Wilson told British Parliament today. He and his cabinet agreed late Tuesday to a proposal which emerged from Wilson's flight to Rhodesia that a royal commission be created to look into the explosive issue. The commission would be chaired by Sir Hugh Beadle, above, Rhodesia's Chief Justice, he said. However, Wilson made it plain his government disagreed with the basis of testing Rhodesian opinion and reserves its position to accept or reject the commission's findings.

Castro's Brother Holds Reception

MOSCOW (AP) — Cuban Deputy Premier Raul Castro, brother of Premier Fidel Castro, gave a dinner in Moscow Tuesday night and among the guests were Communist Party Leader Leonid Brezhnev and Soviet Foreign Minister Gromyko. Raul Castro arrived in the Soviet Union Oct. 7 for talks with Soviet leaders.

Soviet Moves New Missiles

MOSCOW (AP) — Three Soviet missiles never displayed here before in public, including one guard, have been rolling through mist-shrouded Moscow streets late at night on tracked vehicles.

All three are expected to be unveiled for the first time Sunday in the huge military parade marking the 49th anniversary of the Bolshevik Revolution that brought communism to power in the Soviet Union.

Soviet troops have been moving these and other missiles through blacked-out downtown streets in nightly rehearsals.

The three new rockets all appeared to be intermediate-range ballistic missiles with a range of between 300 and 1,200 miles.

The giant missile is about 80 feet long, its nose cone, clearly designed to carry a nuclear warhead, hangs over the edge of the tracked carrier and appears to sag.

The other two new missiles are between 50 and 65 feet long. The Russians traditionally bring out rockets for public display twice a year — on Revolution Day, Nov. 7, and May Day.

UN Cancels Kashmir Talks

UNITED NATIONS (AP) — The United Nations Security Council cancelled today a meeting on the India-Pakistan conflict because the Big Four could not agree on a resolution on a subject.

The cancellation — for the third consecutive day — was announced shortly after a private conference of Soviet, French, British and United States delegates and while the council president, Bolivian Ambassador Fernando Ortiz-Sanz, was conferring with some of the other members.

Diplomatic sources said the Big Four still were in disagreement over a Soviet proposal to put a three-month time limit on the stationing of United Nations observers in India and Pakistan to watch the Sept. 23 ceasefire and any subsequent withdrawal.

Stock Boom Keeps Going

VANCOUVER (CP) — The boom continued for the third day on the Vancouver stock exchange today.

Volume in the first hour was even higher than Monday and Tuesday — both record days — as the public rushed to get on the Pyramid Mining bandwagon.

Pyramid, with encouraging reports of a test at its lead-zinc property in the Pine Point area of the Northwest Territories, sparked the rush.

Stock in the company was $4.45 on the unlisted market Friday. In the first hour it reached $11.75 today.

The Pyramid report resulted in a rush to buy stocks of other companies that have property in the Pine Point area near where a Consolidated Mining and Smelting Co. subsidiary has a rich lead-zinc mine.

In the first hour today 1,381,400 shares were traded — far exceeding the first hour trading Monday and Tuesday. Total volume for Monday and Tuesday was over 4,000,000.

Compensation Increase Set

VICTORIA (CP) — The British Columbia cabinet today announced increases in workmen's compensation of 35 to 325 a month in a series of amendments which will cost the province $20,000,000 this year.

Labor Minister Leslie Peterson said further payment increases, in the first major overhaul of compensation benefits in 11 years, would be arranged in accordance with cost of living increases.

Bomb Shakes Up Campaign Plans

LUCK FINALLY RAN OUT . . .

LONDON (AP) — When a shell from the German battleship Bismarck hit the magazine of the British battleship Hood 34 years ago and blew her apart, only three of the 1,415 men on the Hood survived.

One was William John Dundas, a midshipman who climbed through a window of the bridge and was packed up four hours later.

There's no rational explanation of it, it was just luck, and I've been a firm believer in it ever since.

Dundas, 64, was badly injured in an automobile accident Monday. He died in a London hospital Tuesday.

Alberta Needs 'More Secreds'

EDMONTON (CP) — More Social Credit MPs are needed in the Commons to help give Alberta a square deal, party leader Robert Thompson said at a rally here Tuesday night.

His plea was backed by Premier E. C. Manning who said Liberal and Conservative MPs from the province "sit in silence in the Commons rather than stand up and fight for Alberta."

Both men spoke to about 1,300 persons in the 2,500-seat Jubilee Auditorium at a rally for the Social Credit candidates in the three Edmonton City ridings.

Mr. Manning said Alberta is getting a poor deal from Ottawa on equalization payments and in several federal-provincial programs. Only Mr. Thompson and H. A. Olson, the Social Credit MP for Medicine Hat in the last Parliament, had spoken out for their province in the Commons.

Other Alberta MPs were either bound by party policies or were reluctant to speak because they might find themselves praising the Social Credit government.

Mr. Manning said Canada suffers from political instability because it is becoming impossible to tell the difference between the Conservative and Liberal parties.

"Both are trying to be all things to all men," said the premier.

Pound Rides Recovery Road

LONDON (Reuters) — The pound today reached its highest level in nearly three years.

Within two hours of the opening of business at the Foreign Exchange Market it rose by 80.0006 to 82.8050 in U.S. funds.

The pound had not reached this figure since January, 1963. The gain was a reflection of overseas reaction to Tuesday's announcement that Britain's gold and convertible currency reserves have risen £42,000,000 ($126,000,000) in the last month.

The true gain to the reserves was even greater because during the month some of the incoming funds were used to repay short-term overseas loans to central banks.

The Bank of England does not disclose immediately the extent of these repayments but the financial circles the figure is believed to be about £30,000,000, bringing the October's actual gain to about £100,000,000.

Tories Hire Extra Policemen As 'The Chief' Speaks Tonight

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

Discovery of a bomb apparatus in the hall after Prime Minister Pearson's big Montreal rally Tuesday night threw a jolt into the federal election campaign.

Tonight Conservative Leader Diefenbaker and NDP Leader Douglas follow Mr. Pearson into Canada's biggest city for competing night rallies.

Montreal NDP spokesmen said they are making no special arrangements, but a high-ranking Conservative spokesman said the party has hired 150 police from a private police agency to keep order inside the hall.

The spokesman added that 300 uniformed Montreal policemen would be patrolling outside. The bomb was found shortly after a crowd of more than 3,000 had filed out of the Shawmut building in Montreal's east end. It consisted of clockwork mechanism attached to a bag of black powder immersed in inflammable liquid.

A telephone tapster had sent police searching for a bomb while the Liberal rally—a tumult of chanting, heckling and fighting—was still in progress. They went about it quietly but didn't find anything. Cleaners found the unexploded apparatus later.

The prime minister, alternating between English and French, had a tough time getting his 15-minute speech over. He was drowned out by the uproar at several points, including one when 20 young separatist demonstrators were ejected from the hall and a fight erupted.

Mr. Pearson slashed out at the Conservatives and Mr. Diefenbaker as unfit to govern Canada.

Meanwhile, the object of attack was returning the fire in a speech to 1,000 persons at Wallaceburg, Ont.

Mr. Diefenbaker said the Liberal government has "no destination and no plan to get there." The prime minister was asking the people of Canada for a blank cheque while refusing to tell them what he plans to do.

Mr. Douglas had the night's biggest crowd — an estimated 4,700 in the Winnipeg Coliseum where Mr. Pearson had 3,000 the night before.

He pledged the NDP would reduce the interest rate on National Housing Act loans to three per cent from the current 6 1/2, promised to make loans for existing housing, and said:

Dief Whistle-Stops On Huron Shore — Speaks Of "Intimidation" Move

"Giving the Liberals a majority is like giving Rip Van Winkle a sleeping pill."

Earlier in the day Mr. Pearson spoke to about 1,000 persons at a noon-hour rally in Fort William, raking NDP policies.

"I can't accept socialism as the basis for political action," he said. The ideals of social justice were being realized in the Liberal program.

Referring to the scandal issue, he said:

"When I read some things being said — boy, I'd like to get down and talk to them in their own language, but I'm not going to and I don't think you'd want me to."

Mr. Diefenbaker whistled his way down the Lake Huron shore. At Goderich he said the government has issued an order halting promotions in the armed forces without direct authority from Ottawa.

"Is this a form of intimidation?" he asked.

Eshkol Defeats Former Mentor To Come Out Top In Israel Poll

TEL AVIV (AP) — Prime Minister Levi Eshkol came out on top today in Israel's general elections, beating back a determined bid from right-wing forces and a challenge from his one-time mentor and friend, David Ben-Gurion.

With nearly half of the 2,000 voting districts reporting, Eshkol's Mapai Labor Party and its ally, the left-wing Achdut Haavoda, seemed assured of at least 42 of the 120 seats in the Knesset (parliament). The two parties had 43 seats in the old Knesset.

The Mapai-Achdut Haavoda coalition was polling about 38 per cent of the total vote, compared with 18.6 per cent for the right-wing bloc of Herut and the Liberal parties and nine per cent for Ben-Gurion's new Rafi Party.

Eshkol now will be able to continue in power as head of a multi-party coalition similar to the Mapai-led governments which have ruled Israel for the last 17 years of its existence.

Ben-Gurion, 70, quarrelled with Eshkol, 70, over the running of the government and the so-called "Lavon affair," a security mishap that occurred 10 years ago in Egypt. Ben-Gurion wanted a judicial inquiry into the incident but the Mapai leadership led by Eshkol wanted to forget it.

Ben-Gurion stormed out of retirement to split Mapai, which he helped found, and to campaign against Eshkol as head of the new party. But the voters rejected both Ben-Gurion and the untied rightist bloc.

They were defeated by Beama's Democratic team, Queens District Attorney Frank O'Connor, who won the city council presidency, and Mario Pragasino, city controller.

Beame was bidding to become the first Jewish mayor in a city of 8,000,000 that is nearly one-fourth Jewish.

Lindsay cut deeply into a traditionally Democratic Jewish vote and held his own in Republican areas to put together his victory. He also whittled down a bit the generally top-heavy vote Democrats usually win in Negro neighborhoods.

COULDN'T CARRY MATES But Lindsay was unable to carry in his running mate, Liberal Party Chairman Timothy Costello and Democrat Milton Mollen, housing aide under Wagner.

Buckley Jr., a Goldwater Republican who ran on the Conservative party ticket, Lindsay had the endorsement of the Liberal party.

Buckley, 50, ridiculed Lindsay for his refusal to back Barry Goldwater for president last year.

Returns from all 8,000 voting districts gave Lindsay 1,166,918, Beame 1,030,771, and Buckley 339,127.

Buckley is a Catholic, Beame Jewish and Lindsay Anglican. Buckley drained votes from Beame, but his biggest gains came in sections of Queens, which Lindsay won, as predicted in pre-election polls.

Lindsay, 43, won despite a 7-to-2 Democratic enrolment, and a challenge by William F.

But, he said in an election meeting in his constituency of Coast Capilano, the bank must in no way be connected with the Social Credit provincial government.

Barry Says That McNamara Should Quit Over Viet Nam

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Barry Goldwater called today for the resignation of U.S. Defense Secretary Robert McNamara, urged an all-out bombing of Hanoi industrial complexes and blamed Governors William W. Scranton and Nelson Rockefeller, both Republicans, for his defeat in last year's presidential election.

In a taped television interview shown here, Goldwater also said the Johnson administration had let down his request to visit South Viet Nam as a reserve general in the U.S. Air Force.

Speaking from his home in Phoenix, the former Arizona senator said the resignation of McNamara "would be the best thing that could happen in our war effort. He has had too big a say in making foreign policy."

Goldwater, a Republican, said McNamara's policies have reduced the morale in the defense department to an all-time low.

He said he couldn't see any difference in the danger of concentrating power whether in military or civilian hands.

Such power, he said, is more to be feared in the hands of "professional civilians than in the hands of the military," and accused McNamara of such an abuse.

He said older military heads have been shunted aside for younger men and decisions made by computers.

Goldwater said the war in Viet Nam could be ended in a relative few months if "we would say to Hanoi (North Viet Nam) you are no longer a sacred place."

ROBERT McNAMARA
... he must go

He urged heavy bombing of "not the city—we are not people killers," but industrial targets.

On politics, he said the attacks by Rockefeller, of New York, and Scranton, of Pennsylvania, describing him as a trigger-happy and out to destroy social security hurt most of his effort to win the presidency.

"They said it so often that people believed it," he asserted. He also had some words about civil rights, saying that the U.S. will continue to have riots in the streets "as long as people are told they are allowed to break the law as (Negro leader) Dr. Martin Luther King is doing."

Burns Gives Pledge to UN On India's Atomic Reactor

LI-GEN, E. L. M. Burns, Canada's chief disarmament negotiator, reassured the United Nations Tuesday that the Canadian-Indian agreement to build an atomic reactor in India contained an "unambiguous" understanding that the plant would be used for peaceful purposes only.

Burns was replying in the first political statement by a Canadian minister to last Friday's statement by Pakistan that India's present nuclear capability can be traced back to the Canadian donation of atomic reactor plants.

Ray Perrault, B.C. Liberal leader, produced a telex message from Ottawa Tuesday night and claimed it proves Premier Bennett is guilty of a falsehood. Mr. Perrault said in London, the message, from Mr. Burns, said that the information "gives the absolute lie to Bennett's denial a few days ago that he had any knowledge of any meeting in Ottawa or any offer of federal help for the Lahore Masjed free-way crossing system."

Creditable Leader Committee said Tuesday in Ottawa his group is ready to publish a financial statement and limit its campaign expenditures provided the other parties agree to follow suit.

Premier Robert Stanfield of Nova Scotia, said Tuesday the question of off-shore mineral rights should not be referred to the Supreme Court of Canada and "settled by legislative methods."

Mr. Stanfield told a Progressive Conservative party rally here Nova Scotia would stand little chance of obtaining a favorable settlement of the federal government's off-shore rights.

J. B. Humphrey of Toronto, past president of the All Canada Insurance Federation, said Tuesday in Halifax, automobile insurance rates are headed one way—up. London Press 'Splashes' Lindsay - Saying Win A Blow To Johnson

LONDON (Reuters) — London newspapers today splashed Representative John Lindsay's New York mayoralty election win and called it a blow to President Johnson and the ruling Democrats.

"Poll Shock For LBJ." The Evening News, a headline in its story, which led early editions, saying this was "an electoral earthquake that sent shudders through the Johnson administration."

The News adds in a dispatch from New York: "Tired of the cynical, tarnished Democratic Party machine which traditionally presides over this anguished city, the voters have turned toward a new face, a new man and, hopefully, a new era."

A Republican saw a new John F. Kennedy in Lindsay's boyish face and Ivy League accent. The News says.

The Evening Standard says the election of Lindsay was interpreted "as a major victory for the moderate forces within the Republican party, as a defeat for the city's once all-powerful political machine and as a blow to the popularity of President Johnson, who had been gradually supported (Abraham) Beame in face of warnings he might be defeated."

The lack of support for William Buckley, right-wing candidate. The Standard says, had dashed the hopes of Barry Goldwater, the former Republican presidential candidate.

MOSCOW (AP)—Tass claimed today that the defeat of Democrat Abraham D. Beame in New York's mayoral race is regarded as an indication of public resentment of President Johnson's foreign policy.

The official Soviet news agency in a dispatch from New York also said independent Republican John V. Lindsay was elected because Democratic mayors for the last 20 years "were interested only in the good of their party rather than the needs of the New Yorkers."

TORONTO (CP)—Companies with interests in the Northwest Territories Pine Point area were featured issues traded on an otherwise quiet and dull Toronto stock exchange this morning.
Pine Point Mines, already shipping lead and zinc, its vast ore body was up to point to $5 while its parent company Cominco, gained 1/4 to 52 1/2.
Canadian Pacific, which owns more than 50 per cent of Cominco, added a point at 7 1/4.
Companies with a financial interest in Pyramid, which had encouraging drill results on its Pine Point property last week and has more than tripled to 61 1/2, reflected the increased prices.

Ottawa Appeal Over The Top

OTTAWA (CP)—Ottawa's United Appeal drive went over the top by about $2,000 Tuesday night.

Paul Peters, campaign chairman, said at a closing dinner that a total of $1,478,944 was collected to support the city's 40 member agencies.

Ottawa is the second city in Canada with a goal of more than $1,000,000 to reach the objective this year.

Statesmanship Said "Lacking"

Hon. Frank Richter, B.C. Minister of Agriculture, said Tuesday it is obvious there is a complete lack of statesmanship in the Federal election campaigns of the old-line parties.

Mr. Richter spoke to 25 people in Winfield in support of Howard Johnston, Social Credit candidate for the Okanagan-Revelstoke constituency.

"There has been nothing but small and second-hand issues," he said, "and no constructive policies introduced. The eyes of the world are on Canada during this period of stress, and when they see what is going on, it diminishes our image in their eyes."

"We have all it takes to make Canada a world power, but to do this we must obtain leadership and statesmanship."

OLD PROMISES

The minister said voters are getting the same old promises from the other parties involved in the election, and the parties are trying to outdo themselves, at the expense of the taxpayer.

"It is obvious," he said, "that we haven't balanced the national budget. I believe in progress and development, when it concerns such policies as medicine and the pension plan, but we need progressive policies, without trying to hoodwink the voter into believing he is getting these services for nothing. When you get something for nothing, you get just what you paid for it."

FORGOTTEN

Mr. Richter said B.C. has been having trouble with representation from the province who, when they reach Ottawa, have trouble seeing any further west than the foothills.

"These men seem to forget the people in B.C. who sent them to the cabinet," he said.

"We have had no support from them in our big projects. It is dismaying to find that our native sons, who were willing to let us send them to Ottawa, forget to go on to see if they get there."

The minister turned to the federal farm policy.

FARM POLICY

"This farm policy," he said, "is not known for what it has, but what it does not have. Farming is a very fundamental part of our economy, and must be closely looked after."

"We need strong farm policies not for just one part of Canada but for all parts of Canada."

"When the Prime Minister announced during the last election he was going to have two ministers of agriculture, I wondered what he meant. It turned out while he was preaching unity on one hand, he was trying to divide the east and west on an agricultural basis on the other hand."

Under the present form of crop insurance, instituted by the federal government, the average grower is almost defenceless. If every single grower in the Okanagan had been completely covered under the present legislation when the disaster hit us this spring, the entire allotment for the Okanagan would have been $1,500,000. This would have had to be divided among yourselves."

"Next Monday, when you go to the polling stations and make your choice of representative for your area, I suggest you bear in mind the name of Howard Johnston. He is a young, very capable man, and will do the most for you."

Plan Of Voters Not To Cast Ballots Bothers Social Credit Candidate

Howard Johnston, Social Credit candidate for the Okanagan-Revelstoke riding in the federal election, said Tuesday in Winfield, he is perturbed by the large number of people who have told him they will not vote on Nov. 8.

"The people say they are not going to vote," he said, "because of the large number of elections we have been having in Canada."

"In the past years, I have travelled extensively around the world, but of all the countries I visited, Egypt and India remain foremost in my memory. The reason for this is the great contrast between the two countries."

"The people of Egypt feel suppressed, because they cannot elect their government, whereas the Indians feel free, because they chose the country heads."

GREAT GIFT

"For me, this is all the proof I need to illustrate the great gift we have in being able to vote."

"I urge you, the voter, to make use of your franchise, and help Canada to elect a good government."

"It has made me very happy," he said, "to see education becoming an issue in this election. From my travels, I know much about education, and that it is being stressed in other countries. We must keep up with their pace, if we are not to lag behind, and become the backwash of the world."

"I welcome assistance from the federal government, because we need more cooperation on all levels of education. We must strive to make education available to every child in Canada, or resign to domination by other countries."

Turning to agriculture, he said he felt he was particularly suited for this field, as he was raised on a farm in the North Okanagan.

HOSPITAL AUXILIARY AIDS KELOWNA GENERAL

The Women's Hospital Auxiliary presented the Kelowna General hospital Tuesday, with a stainless steel cart and a 40-cup coffee urn for the dietary department. Mrs. J. C. Taylor, president, made the presentation on behalf of the auxiliary, assisted by Mrs. A. V. McPham, treasurer, and Mrs. A. C. Fortin, a past president.

Accepting on behalf of the hospital was Miss V. R. Pawlitz, chief dietitian. Also present were Miss C. C. Sackler, director of nursing and C. F. Lavery, administrator. Money for the donation was raised through bridge parties, a home cooking sale, tickets on a Christmas hamper, operation of the hospital cart and from the annual tea on the hospital grounds during the fair. The auxiliary also has a sinking fund to furnish a ward in the new hospital. From the left Mrs. Taylor, Mrs. Fortin, Miss Pawlitz and Mrs. McPham. —(Courier photo)

Community Chest Drive Surpasses $25,000 Mark

Mrs. Bertha France, executive secretary for the Kelowna Community Chest campaign, said today the returns from the business in the city are coming in in "this and pieces," and the total donations to the chest are slightly more than $25,000.

"It is nice to see this kind of spirit among the canvassers, as it boosts morale and makes the people more willing to work."

Mrs. France said the returns for the residential campaign were coming in steadily, with some of them being sent in by way of self-addressed envelopes.

"We are hearing more and more from the residential areas each day," she said, "and I process approximately $2,000 in donations from them daily."

The canvassers have been leaving self-addressed envelopes at most residences where they are asked to call back, to save a lot of time and work by the canvasser. These envelopes appear to have been very well accepted, and this morning alone I received approximately $50 through them."

Mrs. France said earlier the finishing date for the drive had to be moved ahead, possibly as far as December.

DON COSSACK CHORUS, DANCERS APPEARED TUESDAY

Approximately 700 people attended the one night performance by the Don Cossack chorus and dancers in the community theatre Tuesday.

Ed Krahn, publicity chairman for the Kelowna Community Theatre, said the club would not make much profit. "However, we consider bringing this type of entertainment to Kelowna, a community service," he said. "Those who attended enjoyed a wonderful performance." Proceeds were to be used to help develop Wardlaw Park. The group of 25 performers sang hymns, folk songs, English songs, Russian military numbers as well as performing authentic Russian dances. G. Solodnikov, was featured as the dagger dancer. In a number performed on foot without ballet shoes, he juggled 15 swords. The entire chorus formed the background for the dance which began with a sad lull and ended in jubilation. In the photo the sword dancer is shown during the dance with the chorus standing behind in their native Russian costume. —(Courier photo)

Poll Shows A Majority Favors A Majority

The latest Gallup poll on how Canadians look at the federal election does suggest that the Liberal party could conceivably indicate a trend toward that party in the West.

The poll's findings in the prairies and British Columbia also showed less indifference about this question than was shown in other areas. While nationwide 11 per cent of the voters could see little difference in whether the country was governed by minority or majority governments, in the West only four per cent were indifferent.

Only 10 per cent of those polled in the West offered no opinion compared with 13 per cent nationwide, 12 per cent in the Maritimes, 14 per cent in Quebec and 15 per cent in Ontario. Political consciousness apparently is at a higher level west of the Ontario-Manitoba border than in the rest of Canada.

One other conclusion which may be drawn from the Gallup Poll is that if there is another minority government in power following November 8, the majority of Canadians are going to be disappointed — perhaps disappointed and angry.

Bi Yes, Multi No!

(Financial Post)

Anyone in Canada is free to speak to his friends and relations, publish a newspaper or hire a hall and address an audience in any language he pleases, be it Gaelic, Swahili or Mandarin Chinese.

In legislatures, courts and schools the same latitude is clearly not practicable. So it is hard to follow one part of the argument presented to a Saskatchewan audience by Premier Lesage of Quebec.

People whose mother tongue is neither English nor French are, to the nation's advantage, numerous in Canada and especially on the Prairies. When they hear of proposals that French should be official across the land, some of them ask why their own vernaculars should not have the same status.

Making his case for French Canadian rights outside Quebec, Lesage said at Saskatoon he would give the same rights to other ethnic minorities if they wanted to stay separate and distinct.

This looks like a contradiction of Lesage's own doctrine. The French-speakers, as he has often pointed out, were the original Canadians and one of the two founding peoples. They are 30 per cent of the country's population.

Rights reasonably demanded by the French can hardly be claimed, on grounds of either history or numbers, by other minorities. Of these the largest are in origin German (5.3 per cent), Ukrainian (2.6 per cent), Italian (2.5 per cent) and Dutch (2.4 per cent). There are others of nearly like importance.

People who come here from other lands are free to cherish their own culture and speak their mother tongue. It would be a different matter, and clearly against the national interest, to give Canada or any part of it three or more official languages instead of only two.

Many and perhaps most English-speaking Canadians are in favor of extending bilingualism; but multilingualism, as seemingly suggested by Lesage, would find very few supporters. The Quebec premier, who may turn up some day in national politics, should not leave his Saskatoon statement unclear.

The Right To Work

(Calgary Herald)

A blow for personal freedom has been struck in the United States Senate. There, a filibuster led by Senator Everett Dirksen, has blocked a bill which would have repealed the controversial right-to-work legislation embodied in Section 14 (b) of the Taft-Hartley Act.

It is easy to understand why this legislation has infuriated the trade union movement. It affirms the basic freedom that any employee should have the right to work without having to join a union. No less than nineteen states have implemented this legislation and have banned the closed union shop.

This is a just law, but it has always been bitterly resented by the militant trade unionist since it interferes with his ideal of placing every worker under the effective control of some union organization.

The failure to bring repeal of this legislation to a vote therefore constitutes a sharp rebuff to the labor movement in the U.S. and also to the Johnson administration which, in payment for labor support during the 1964 presidential campaign, had committed itself to ridding the statute books of this law.

The law still stands, and the concept of personal freedom has triumphed. Surely, it should be an integral part of a democratic society that any citizen should have the right to earn a living without having to join a labor union. Unions should have no right to compel a man to join by blackmailing him with the threat of losing his job if he cherishes his individual liberty and decides to stay out.

This principle has been upheld for the time being, at least, in the U.S. Senate.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

"NOT FREEDOM"

Sir: When the coming election was announced you advised the readers of your paper that you would not publish any articles regarding the views of different people in election matters. Many of your readers were annoyed at the announcement but could do nothing about it. Why you decided to take this view I do not know and you failed to explain the reason.

TO YOUR GOOD HEALTH

His Bone Trouble

Can Be Cleared Up

By DR. JOSEPH G. MOLNER

Dear Dr. Molner: What about osteomyelitis? I know a young man who had it, but was operated, and the bone was scraped. He has not had trouble since, except some pain when he gets tired. My questions are:

Is it a communicable or hereditary disease?

Is it crippling or incurable?

Will it affect his life span or earning power?—MRS. L.M.

Osteomyelitis is an infection of the bone, due to a variety of germs.

It is not communicable; not hereditary.

It is not crippling. Before we had antibiotics, the disease quite often became chronic, and would flare up frequently. Today, however, the combination of antibiotics and good surgery results in most cases being cured.

We cannot say that a case never can become chronic, but with proper attention it doesn't happen often.

The answer to the third question is that it will not affect this young man's life span or his earning power.

Dear Dr. Molner: About seven years ago I had a severe attack of diverticulitis. Since then I have had attacks off and on, although I watch my diet.

The doctor advised me never to take laxatives or enemas. However, several acquaintances who have the same trouble tell me they have periodic colon flushes and are never bothered by attacks. What is your opinion?—MRS. E.H.

Your friends, I strongly suspect, didn't have as severe an attack as you did, and they would have gotten along just as well without their colon flushes. Such treatment is not necessary, and can do more harm than good. If your bowel regularly isn't as good as it should be, more liquid (meaning an extra glass of water now and then), and just a little attention to developing regular habits will help you, without irritating the "diverticuli" problem. An occasional mild laxative, if needed, is all right. But by all means, don't assume that enemas (or colon flushes) will assure you of no further trouble. Your doctor knew what he was talking about.

Dear Dr. Molner: I am a girl of 18 years. The moles I have had all my life are growing a little bigger every day. One on my side is causing me concern because it has changed from brown to black, partially. Is this a danger sign? Let me add that I am a coward when it comes to having a mole removed.—N.C.

If these moles really are growing, and if one is changing color, that can be serious, and you should consult your doctor.

Your mention of the changing color may be significant. If the mole is irritated by your bra or undergarments, that would be a good reason for urgent removal.

Don't be a coward about having a mole removed. You've been vaccinated repeatedly. I'm sure. Well, for removal of a mole, you will need a prick of a needle no more bothersome than a vaccination, and that's all you'll feel. As for after effects, there may be a slight soreness, but I've known of vaccinations that were sorer than the aftermath of a mole removal.

NOTE TO D.K.: This "spoonful of vinegar" fiction won't help you lose any weight, and apparently was invented by someone who prefers "an easy way to reduce"—even if it won't work.

You have always advocated free speech in your editorials and in Thursday's edition of your paper you advocated it most strongly but I am sorry to say you don't practice what you preach.

If you would glance at the Province any day you would see numerous letters by the public, on the pros and cons of the upcoming election, and I was pleased to see that in this way voters can see what the public is thinking.

I agree with you in your editorial in Thursday's paper about the swimming pool and I think as you do, that this condition, if true must be brought to the attention of the public.

But you don't play fair, Mr. Editor. Any one but a blind man can see by your editorials how you want the election to go but you deny your readers the right to publish their views.

This, Mr. Editor, is not cricket.

Yours truly,
F. IVAN CROSSLLEY,
R.R. 4, Kelowna.

EDITOR'S NOTE: The reason for the adoption of the policy of no letters on political subjects during an election campaign is quite simple and logical to us. The policy is neither new nor unusual. Many newspapers have it and this newspaper adopted it at least 20 years ago.

The reason is that once an election campaign was called, the privilege was abused. Parties used our letter columns for party propaganda. It was impossible to separate the few honest letters to the editor from the many written for purely propaganda purposes. So—and it was with reluctance—the no-political-letters policy was adopted.

The abuse of the privileges was most flagrant by the splinter parties.

On the other hand, we do attempt to give full news coverage to all political parties. Splinter parties have frequently had more news lineage in this newspaper than the older parties, simply because they have made the news. If any party has had any criticism of our news coverage in the last decade, we have not heard of it. If an item is newsworthy, it is used, regardless of the party.

One cannot help but be intrigued by Mr. Crossley's last paragraph in which he says "anyone but a blind man can see by your editorials how you want the election to go." This is interesting because as of 11:05 on Monday morning Nov. 1, the editor of this paper simply does not know how he will vote on Nov. 8. If Mr. Crossley knows he wishes he would tell him and end his uncertainty and mental confusion.

Actually we have felt our political editorials in this campaign have been rather weak and almost negative. In fact this is how we have felt personally: utterly confused. At the moment we are definitely among "the undecideds". If Mr. Crossley knows how we will vote—and he is not blind—I wish to goodness he would tell us.

About this election we have many strong negative feelings. We do have one positive one and that is that the welfare of the country demands a government with a majority. The splinter parties cannot provide that and we find it almost impossible to vote for a party headed by Diefenbaker or a party with Walter Gordon as finance minister and such incompetents as Judy LaMarsh.

Perhaps—Mr. Crossley—can help us out.—rpm.)

Long Embrace A Roman Mystery

ROME (AP)—Archaeologists are trying to solve the mystery of an embrace that lasted 2,000 years.

Perhaps linked with it is another puzzle: Why were the two eggs put in the ancient Etruscan tomb?

The tomb, found this summer at Trevisano near Lake Bracciano north of Rome, is one of the few Etruscan burial places disclosed in recent years that had not previously been opened by grave robbers.

In the master bedroom of the round-domed tomb, the skeletons of a man and woman were found locked in embrace. Fragments of clothing were on the bones.

And in a bowl nearby were two perfectly intact eggs, never before known to have been found in an Etruscan tomb.

The Etruscans, great mystery people of the Italian peninsula, built their ornate tombs as big as houses for the whole family. Even servants and household pets were buried there in the many-roomed tombs.

The Trevisano tomb was that of a rich family. Intricate gold work, bronze, ceramics, mural art and household treasures were unearthed.

Besides the embraced couple, four skeletons presumably of other members of the household were found on the carved stone beds of the rooms.

Archaeologists said they had been unable to tell whether the embraced couple had died at the same time and been buried simultaneously, or whether they died at different times and other members of the family had linked their bodies in embrace.

Archaeologists speculated that the eggs might have been placed there in symbolism of eternal life.

Italian archaeologists would give a museum full of ancient art works for a little more knowledge about the Etruscans, who developed a high civilization in an area across the Italian peninsula.

Their art work is considered the finest in ancient Europe. They told their prized bronze art to the Greeks. They taught the Romans how to build walls. They cultivated vineyards that produced the first wine in Italy. Their red-sail ships plied the Mediterranean in trade competition with the Carthaginians.

But the inscriptions on their tombs have never been deciphered. Their language never has been read. Even their origin is unknown except that they may have come from Asia Minor.

But life is simple in the colony. "The Kiddy women are not raised to date on foolish flattery," its founder said.

Old-timers who remember Nate always mention his reputation for honesty. "He doesn't owe anybody anything and his word is as good as gold," one said. Town records indicate he has never been delinquent in paying taxes, which were $25 in 1934 on property assessed at $1,000.

NEW DELHI (AP)—Government officials reported that 780,000 refugees entered India from East Pakistan in the 18 months since Jan. 1, 1964. They said most were Hindus, but added the total included 48,000 Christians and 20,000 Buddhists. East Pakistan is predominantly Moslem.

Nate And Family Form Own World

LANDAFF, N.H. (AP)—Nate Kiddy, a man with no state for a world he calls the precinct, has founded his own kingdom with more than 20 descendants on the summit of a small mountain.

Kiddy heads a nearly self-sufficient clan the size of a small town, at the 2,500-foot elevation on 285 acres of timberland in the Cooley Hills of northern New Hampshire.

The population includes Kiddy's wife, nine children, more grandchildren than he keeps track of, and cows, pigs and goats.

The 61-year-old patriarch, born in Vermont of combined Indian and Yankee stock, said in an interview he hasn't taken a trip since he went to Bellows Falls, Vt., about 80 miles away, years ago.

"Out here, we have it our own way," Kiddy says. "It's quiet. We can do what we want, raise what we want and keep what we want."

Kiddy still refers to the world below as "the precinct"—the nearest town is 10 miles away—and says: "You have to do what they tell you there and I'd hate that."

The Kidders raise their own food and do without doctors, dentists, butchers, carpenters, and even undertakers.

PARK TAKES ON "REFLECTIVE MOOD"

That desolate and drear individual fall and all is somber and a little damp. Here is a study by Kent Stew-

Democracy "In Action" At Farmers Union Meet

ARMSTRONG — "This is a wonderful example of democracy in action," said Pat Buyer, at the close of the all party forum on Thursday night.

Mr. Buyer chaired the forum held at the Legion Hall, sponsored by the Farmers Union Local 288.

Just prior to each candidate's 15-minute speech, Mr. Buyer gave a general outline of their education and background, and their contribution to the community in which they live.

"Anyone who offers himself for public service is worthy of our respect," said Mr. Buyer. "The Farmers Union favors no political party or religion, and does not discriminate any race or creed."

All of the political candidates for the Okanagan - Revelstoke federal riding were present, except Frank Becker, Liberal. He was represented by Peter Seaton, of Vernon.

Mr. Seaton said Mr. Becker had spent 24 years in Vernon, six of which he served as a very popular mayor.

He spoke of the numerous organizations Mr. Becker was active in, and how he was or had been president of many.

Mr. Becker's record of achievement proved his capabilities and if elected would put Okanagan - Revelstoke on the map, politically, by continual push. Mr. Becker proposes to set up an advisory economic welfare conference.

Mr. Becker thinks students are our greatest investment, and the voting age should be lowered to 19, thus giving them a voice in their future.

Mr. Seaton said the Liberals have done a great job on the redistribution plan; the unemployment has dropped; the economy is five times greater than in the Diefenbaker term; the country has come up from poor financially to excellent shape.

"We need a truly Canadian party in power," said Mr. Seaton.

and the Liberals are the only ones for the job," John Gracey, Progressive Conservative candidate, then spoke.

"I agree we need a candidate who will get things done," said Mr. Gracey. "But I don't think you have to have one who waves his arms about; you can also be quietly effective and get things done."

Mr. Gracey said the idea of the election was not to merely vote something but also to vote something better in.

He said the Liberals are taking credit for programs the Conservatives set up.

"It is alleged we put the country into economic chaos," said Mr. Gracey. "When in truth we never had disunity until the Liberal came in."

"Our economy is tied by our ability to produce by proper planning, and we are now caught in a form of inflation. The welfare needs; Canada's monies and old age assistance will certainly be considered the existing criteria and my government could be readily financed by three per cent of the income tax.

"I think you want to vote for someone who really understands the needs of this area as I do," said Mr. Gracey.

Walter Inglis then spoke for his party, the NDP.

"I'm not going to say much about the past," said Mr. Inglis. "I'm more interested in the future."

"There is no security in any area of the farming industry. The farmer needs a guaranteed price for his products."

INCOME DOWN
"Since 1963, farm income has dropped 15 per cent, and the cost of living is up 40 per cent. The minimum old-age pension should be $100 a month for all; (more for the needy); plus all hospital and medical expenses and should be available at age 65."

Mr. Johnston, "and Ottawa and Victoria are a mismatched team who don't pull together as they should."

"Our democracy is a sacred thing, and I know you are weary of elections, but let us keep our privilege to vote."

"If you elect me, I will do my best in Ottawa, and keep the needs of this area uppermost in my mind. All I ask is the opportunity."

Veterans Treated Disgracefully, Pensions Act Should Be Amended

"We treat our veterans disgracefully and the Canada Pension Act should be amended."

"Education should all be free including university and vocational training."

"Medicare should include everything. People would soon be healthier, and our health is our wealth."

"With proper planning and development of their interests, we could keep our trained young people in Canada," said Mr. Inglis.

Howard Johnston, Social Credit candidate, then spoke for his party, and his deep personal interest of the people in his riding and the country as a whole.

He spoke of his education and his travels in other countries. He touched on his visit to places behind the iron curtain where machine gun posts were set up, not to keep people out, but their own people in.

He expressed concern over the apathy too many were taking in regard to the election, how our right to vote is not only a duty but a privilege only a democracy can enjoy.

He said he was deeply interested in the welfare of the old folks, also of his faith in the young people.

Mr. Johnston believes education to be one of the prime issues in this election.

WORLD TRADE
He said also what a large part of our economy had to do with world trade.

"Ottawa is restricting rather than encouraging trade," said Mr. Johnston.

Janitor Douses School Arson Bid

PENTICTON (CP) — A woman janitor doused an attempted arson attempt on a school at Riverside, 40 miles southeast of here.

She arrived at 7:30 a.m. to find a pile of papers burning around the leg of a teacher's desk, and in an adjoining room, a basketful of papers burning under some library books.

She put out both blazes with pails of water.

A spokesman for the Kettle Valley school district said police are investigating.

Farmers' Union Aiding Democracy; "Election Not Needed Right Now"

Ready Members then spoke for the communist party.

He voiced his gratitude to the farmers' union, and was glad they judged candidates as "people."

"Farmers Union is doing a great deal for democracy," said Mr. Mowbray. He said the Liberals could have carried on and not called an election at this time, but perhaps it was a good thing as it reflects a crisis.

"The two-party system is on the way out," said Mr. Mowbray. "They have not grasped where we are going."

"The age of automation is coming to the forefront. Man-kind should have an abundance to live on; in order to produce a quantity, you need machines. You will have to decide who will own these machines. Will it be profits for the individual? Or for cooperation?" said Mr. Mowbray.

"What is needed is federal provincial authority to license automation, with a strong labor force the Okanagan Valley could be a 'Garden of Eden'."

BETRAYED
"We have been economically betrayed by the Liberal government," said Mr. Mowbray. "The U.S.A. has enough invested in Canada to challenge our status; we are in real danger of becoming a mere satellite of the U.S.A."

INTERPRETING WORLD EVENTS

Fidel Pats Self On Back After Refugees Victory

HAVANA (AP)—Premier Fidel Castro's regime is congratulating itself for what it regards as a diplomatic victory over the United States with its open door policy on refugees.

The government's official organ Granma calls it "one of the greatest political defeats ever suffered by Yankee imperialism" and compares it to the Bay of Pigs invasion.

Government officials repeat the view in private conversations.

The Cuban viewpoint lists three major results of Castro's announcement a month ago that his regime would allow — and even help — all Cubans who want to go into exile into the U.S. to do so:

—Government — th — government discussions are going on, although on an indirect basis, for the first time in years, perhaps pointing toward more contacts in the future.

—The U.S. breaking off air connections in 1958 has been exposed as a major reason for the inability of many dissident Cubans to leave the island.

—The influence and hopes of anti-Castro Cuban elements anxious to see a continuation of Cuba's isolation from the U.S. have been demonstrated to be on the wane.

CONTACT LIMITED

Diplomatic contact has been limited largely to details of setting up an airlift to replace the dangerous sea route now being used. All of the contact has been indirect — through the Soviet embassy, which represents U.S. interests in Cuba.

But it has led to repeated mentions in government and foreign diplomatic circles of the possibility of future contact on other matters, perhaps on a more direct basis.

Among the possibilities mentioned as topics for future discussion are the status of the U.S. naval base at Guantanamo — a source of irritation to Castro — and claims of U.S. interests whose holdings here were expropriated.

A matter regarded as much more likely to come up in the near future is the release of political prisoners, which Castro ruled out for inclusion in the current negotiations but one regarded as a priority item as U.S. thinking.

Castro, in an interview published today by the New York Times, said he does not expect a general improvement of relations with the U.S. to follow the negotiations over the refugees.

"There can be no general improvement until U.S. relations with other parts of the world improve," Castro told a Times correspondent in Havana.

Castro cited U.S. actions in the Dominican Republic and West Man and what he described as "a more aggressive, more interventionist policy against national liberation movements."

All that the negotiations showed, Castro said, "is that there are concrete problems that can be solved." He did not specify what other problems might be solved, and he indicated that he did not think there were many, The Times said.

No real settlement with the U.S. can occur until the U.S. learns to accept national liberation movements in the developing nations, Castro declared.

Ex-Fire And Police Chief Jailed On Arson And Conspiracy Charges

CHICAGO (AP)—The former police chief of Chicago, who was not paid for setting the fire, was sentenced to two years in penitentiary for arson and conspiracy to commit arson.

Louise Morton, 41, police and fire chief of Chicago in 1954-55, pleaded guilty before Judge Albert J. Korman to having set ablaze the Hotel New Kings in nearby Newville and to having conspired to set this fire with Eugene Sarver.

Morton, now a carpenter in Chicago, was sentenced to two years on each charge. Sentences will be served consecutively.

He was an employee of Sarver at the time the fire was set in 1955 and court testimony

The Dalai Lama, former God-king of Tibet who fled to India in 1959 during the Chinese revolution against the Chinese Communists, attends last week's opening of the Tibet House in New Delhi. New York's New Mayor Seen On Presidential Plateau

NEW YORK (AP)—John V. Lindsay, 41, Tuesday won the big town's city hall and emerged on the plateau of national Republican politics.

It had been said that even if he ran a close race in this metropolis of 8,000,000 where Democrats outnumber Republicans by seven to two, he would still have to be considered "presidential timber."

His chief opponent, Democrat Abraham D. Beame, charged Lindsay was really running for the Republican nomination for president and would not serve his four-year term.

"If elected I'll serve the full four years and hope to do a good enough job for the voters to re-elect me," Lindsay said.

He pledged that his primary interest is to "make New York city the city of tomorrow, a healthier, better, safer place to live."

Last year Lindsay refused to endorse the Republican presidential nominee, Barry Goldwater. In his campaign for mayor, Lindsay told state and national Republican leaders he didn't want their help.

HE'S AN ATHLETE

He campaigned at a pace that would have tired an athlete. But John V. Lindsay is an athlete.

The six-foot-three congressman is an expert horseman and swimmer and a tennis and ski enthusiast. He also sails, bowls, rides a bike and is an ardent baseball, football and soccer fan.

"I thrive on exercise," he said after one grueling 18-hour day of campaigning.

During 150 days of campaigning Lindsay wore out four pairs of shoes in walking an estimated 473 miles. The car he used to drive him around the city registered 11,123 miles.

Lindsay has a sense of humor and never hesitates to use unprintable language in a give-and-take with reporters and campaign aides.

He is a lawyer, but says his practice is all. He has a small apartment on West 88th Street, near Fifth Avenue, where he lives with his wife, Mary, 36, who is also his partner in politics.

HAS FOUR CHILDREN

They own a small house in Washington, D.C., where three of their four children attend private Episcopal (Anglican) schools. The oldest, Kathy, 14, attends a boarding school in Connecticut.

Lindsay, like the Conservative party candidate, William F. Buckley Jr., went to Yale and, like Buckley, wed a Vassar girl.

He joined the navy during the Second World War, won five battle stars in the Mediterranean and South Pacific areas, and returned to Yale for his law degree.

Ten years later, in 1958, he made his first bid for the silk stocking congressional seat in Manhattan's posh East Side. He won a primary and the election. Then he won again and again.

As mayor, the congressman will more than double his salary. The mayor's job pays $60,000 a year and has untold fringe benefits including a chauffeured limousine, a cook, a valet, bodyguards and rent-free mansion.

Douglas Says NDP To Back Permanent Municipal Loans

WINNIPEG (CP)—T. C. Douglas, New Democratic Party leader, said today his party will support the renewal of the municipal loan legislation on a permanent basis.

Speaking at a press conference on his arrival here for an election rally to be held tonight, Mr. Douglas said the NDP would call for the establishment of a municipal loan corporation as part of a new federal department of urban affairs and housing.

He said municipalities would save an average of one to 1½ per cent on interest rates if they were able to borrow through the federal government.

The municipal loan fund legislation passed by the last Parliament was a success, Mr. Douglas said, but was not a continuing scheme. The $400,000,000 set aside for the fund was spent quickly and there was no machinery to replenish the money supply.

The proposed corporation would make credit available to municipalities for social capital projects at interest rates at which the federal government itself can obtain money.

Hospitals, schools, libraries, sewer, water and sidewalks would be among the projects qualified for the loans.

"The cost to the federal government would be a small investment in relation to the improved employment picture and community service projects which it would foster," Mr. Douglas said.

He said his proposal would require federal-provincial action because credit is a federal responsibility and municipalities are under provincial jurisdiction.

Applications for loans would be channelled through provincial governments which would retain the right of veto and would also be consulted on the establishments of incentives.

TELL THEM YOU'VE HAD ENOUGH

You've put up with the old line parties for one election after another. Socialism is a proven failure. Now tell them all you have had enough. Tell them why you think of the policies they say are good enough for Canada. In recent years Ottawa's unjust treatment of British Columbia has mounted. The parties rooted in Toronto and Montreal must now be rooted out of British Columbia. This time tell them you want a complete change. Vote for fair deal for British Columbia — for the kind of progress you see around you here. Vote Social Cilt on November 8th.

The election of this Social Credit team will assure a fair deal for British Columbia

Chance Pickup Of Runaway Boy Leads To Recovery Of $116,000

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The chance pickup of a runaway boy led to the recovery here of $116,000 stolen from an empty Seattle house after the owner's death, police say.

Two men, accused by the FBI of burglarizing $200,000 cached by restaurant owner Ray L. Smyer, surrendered in a lawyer's office Monday and were arrested.

A third man has been in custody in Seattle since September.

Smyer, 70, when he died last July, owned several Seattle apartment houses. He lived alone and his wealth was unknown until bank officials found $175,000 in his home while settling his estate.

Another $200,000, police estimate, was overlooked then and subsequently found by them.

Authorities identified the last two men arrested as Donald W. Switzer, 25, a finance company collector from Kennewick, Wash., and Byron W. Harker, 22, a library assistant in Seattle.

Soviet Won't See Hello Dolly ...

MOSCOW (AP)—The United States today accused the Soviet Union of breaking the U.S.-Soviet cultural agreement and threatening to retaliate.

Soviet authorities turned down the American musical, Hello Dolly, Sept. 2 and now have done the same with the Roger Wagner Choral, which was proposed as a substitute.

The U.S. embassy minister-counselor, John C. Guthrie, delivered a note to Mikhail Smirnovsky, chief of the American section of the Soviet foreign ministry, in which the Soviet action was called "a step backward."

Opening lead—king of spades.

This hand occurred in the Trials staged in Phoenix, Ariz., in 1962. The bidding shown took place at the table where Robert Jordan and Arthur Robinson, both of Philadelphia, were North-South against Mike Sherman and Alvin Roth, who sat East-West.

The final contract was ambitious, no doubt, since it required losing no tricks in diamonds or clubs, missing the king of each suit. However, Jordan and Robinson, easily one of the best pairs in the United States, are seldom shy in their bidding, and this hand was not an exception.

Robinson made the contract, nabbing the king of clubs and losing only two heart tricks. And, at the same time, demonstrated a principle of play not too well known.

Roth led a spade, taken with the ace. Robinson realized immediately that he would have to lose two hearts regardless of how the cards were divided; that he could not make the contract unless West had the king of diamonds; and that the outcome would therefore depend upon not losing a club trick.

Robinson was aware that the percentage play, missing three to the king, was to finesse in clubs in the hope that East had the king, but he abandoned the percentage play for what seemed to him to be good and sufficient reasons.

He assumed that if Roth had had the A-K of hearts he would have led a heart instead of a spade. Putting this reasoning, Robinson therefore credited East with one of the high heart honors, and this in turn persuaded him that East would not have passed the opening spade lead if he had also had the king of clubs.

It followed logically that a club finesse, if taken, would lose, and that the only real chance lay in playing the ace of clubs in the hope that it would fell the king. And, in true storybook fashion, the hope materialized.

YOUR HOROSCOPE

FOR TOMORROW

Do not consider plans and decisions made now as final. With a little further thought and study, you will find that you may have to make some revisions within the next few days—possibly due to changing situations. Be tactful in personal relationships—especially during the early part of the day, when some persons will be on the "touchy" side.

FOR THE BIRTHDAY

If tomorrow is your birthday, your horoscope indicates that the next five months will be excellent where monetary and business transactions are concerned. Other good periods on the financial front will occur during the early part of next July, throughout September and late October.

It will be important to use good judgment in all of next September's ventures, however. Despite the planetary blessing on your material interests then, you could offset it by becoming involved in dubious schemes or influenced by impractical persons.

Best periods for career advancement: late December, and January, late April and October of next year.

Except for a brief period in January, when you may be under some tension, personal relationships will be governed by exceptionally generous influences during the year ahead, which augurs well for social and domestic interests. Don't be dismayed if, during mid-July, there may be some unexpected changes on the domestic scene, perhaps in the way of environment. They should work out very well.

For the single, the stars smile on romance, especially throughout the current month, January, May, late June and late July.

Most propitious periods for travel: next January, July and/or September.

A child born on this day will be endowed with the talents required for success in practically any phase of the business world, in the medical profession or as an entertainer—especially in highly dramatic productions.

Hawks Hope To Increase Lead

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

Chicago Black Hawks will try to strengthen their National Hockey League lead tonight when they take on Boston Bruins at Chicago Stadium.

The game is the first of the season at Chicago Stadium for the Hawks, who have won four straight games on the road. Chicago, with a game in hand, leads a one-point lead over Montreal Canadiens in the standings.

In other NHL action tonight, Toronto Maple Leafs meet a rejuvenated New York Rangers club at Madison Square Garden. The Bruins, the league's only winless entry, will unveil their fourth goaltender in four games.

Boston recalled 26-year-old Bernie Parent from Oklahoma City of the Central Professional Hockey League, who is to fill in for injured goalie Ed Johnson and Gerry Cheevers.

Boston also called up Jack Norris from Los Angeles of the Western League to serve as a reserve goalie, required under league rules.

The Bruins returned 18-year-old Bob Ring to Niagara Falls Flyers of the Ontario Hockey Association Junior A league

Flyers won the Memorial Cup with Parent in nets last year. Ring was pressed into action when Johnson suffered a leg injury in Boston's third straight loss, an 8-3 rout by New York last Saturday.

New York has won only one game in three starts but a win would give the Rangers four points and a tie for third-place with Toronto.

The Leafs have won two games and lost two so far this year.

Phil Goyette, starting his 16th season in the NHL and his third with New York, is certain the Rangers will make the playoffs this season.

"We've got a lot more drive than last year. The young fellows have a lot more confidence in themselves and we feel we can beat anybody."

Goyette, who celebrated his 25th birthday Sunday, could achieve two milestones in tonight's game.

One goal would give the centre 100 and one assist would give him 200 assists for a career total of 300 points.

Barring injury Goyette will achieve another career mark Sunday when Detroit Red Wings visit New York. It will be Goyette's 100th NHL game.

Stick Swinging Brings Fines

KIMBERLEY (CP) — Fines and three-game suspensions have been assessed two Western International Hockey League players as a result of a stick-swinging duel in Roseland Oct. 22.

Roseland Warrior playing-coach Seth Martin received a $75 fine in addition to his suspension and Spokane Jets defenceman Tom Hodges was assessed $50.

The match penalty incident arose when Hodges high-sticked Martin's nephew Billy in front of the Roseland net.

Martin faced one of the net, caught up with Hodges just as he was preparing to enter the penalty box and engaged him in the duel which lasted approximately two minutes.

In making the announcement Tuesday WHIL president Milo Fabre of Kimberley said the (continued on page 13) taken to hospital Tuesday after suffering a heart attack at his home.

Officials at Toronto General Hospital reported that Conacher, 55, later underwent an operation. They said his condition was fair at first and early Tuesday night said he was improved.

Conacher joined Toronto Maple Leafs of the NHL after helping Toronto Marlies to a Memorial Cup championship in 1940-41.

Conacher is a member of the Toronto family of outstanding athletes that included the late Lionel Conacher, voted Canada's Athlete of the Half-Century in 1956. Charlie coached junior hockey until 1947, when he joined Chicago Black Hawks as a coach, remaining with them until 1949-50.

SPORTSMEN PLAN TO HONOR VALLEY HOCKEY BUILDER

Plans are now well past the formative stages for a Bob Giardano Memorial Hockey Game and Appreciation Fund.

Since Bob died Saturday sportsmen up and down the Valley have been discussing ways of perpetuating his name in honor of the "building" aspect of his work in hockey.

A memorial hockey game will be staged Sunday, November 21 at 2 p.m. between the Kelowna Senior Peaches of 1957-58 and the Kelowna Junior Buckaroos. The accomplishments of both teams are a monument to Bob's dedication.

Under the chairmanship of Blair Peters, the planning committee includes Mayor R. F. Parkinson, Dr. Mel Butler, Jack O'Reilly, Jack Bero and Bill Dean. Some 20 other community sportsmen have been named to committees.

Soccer Men's Eyes Focus On London For World Cup

LONDON (CP) — Preparations for soccer's 1966 World Cup already promise to make it the greatest international sporting event in this country since the 1948 Olympic Games.

Then the big event was centered in London. This time the whole country is participating and more than 36,000 foreign visitors are expected to swell the ranks of British fans at eight football grounds around England.

The eyes of the soccer world will be focused on England between July 11 and July 30 when the 16 teams remaining from the 72 that started the grueling tournament will compete for the Jules Rimet Cup.

To do justice to this vast undertaking £800,000 ($2,400,000) have been poured into improving grounds and facilities for fans, newspaper men and broadcasters covering the event.

Some £650,000 of this is being spent on the eight football fields at Birmingham, Manchester, Liverpool, Sheffield, Middlesbrough, Sunderland and London's Wembley and White City stadiums. The cash came from two grants — one from the government and the other from the Football Association, soccer's managing body.

This, together with local grants and loans, is being used mainly to bring seating arrangements up to scratch. English fans are not usually fans about standing or sitting when they watch ordinary league matches. But World Cup standards demand a higher seating capacity and plans call for a total of 29,000 extra seats to be installed.

IMPROVE STADIUMS Middlesbrough's Ayre some Park will have its present 9,000 seats doubled by next summer as well as undergoing a £100,000 facelift, making it one of the most modern football grounds in the country.

Manchester United has opened a new cantilever stand which includes 40 private boxes equipped with central heating and fitted carpets. Sheffield Wednesday's Hillsborough ground will have seating for 21,000 spectators — more than any other league club.

The Liverpool club, Everton, has rehoused several citizens who lived behind the grounds and plans to demolish the old houses to make room for expansion.

The organization of tickets and programs is to be completed only a few weeks after the elimination rounds have been played and before the final start. Some 2,400,000 tickets must be printed and distributed in three months and 1,500,000 programs must be set up and printed during the eight days separating the lineup announcements by the 16 finalists and the start of the playoffs.

Local officials and hotel men also will have to prepare for the influx of fans on top of the seasonally heavy tourist traffic. Bars and restaurants are being added to grounds that haven't got them now and reception and information centres with translation facilities are being set up for foreign visitors who don't speak English.

The Football Association estimates it will glean about £2,000,000 from gate money and broadcast rights. Ten per cent of this will go to the Federation of Football Associations, 25 per cent to the FA and 65 per cent will be shared by the countries taking part.

If England manages to win the cup for the first time — as many experts predict — British soccer stands to gain financially and its reputation will stand high among the soccer-playing countries.

Grey Cup Fever Runs High In Nation's Capital Ottawa

OTTAWA (CP) — Football fans here are growing restless about Clair's future. One broadcaster said he was told Clair would be fired if the Riders failed to reach the Grey Cup this year.

Clair, who almost left on his own last year when Toronto was looking for a coach, is on the first year of a three-year pact said to be worth about $200,000 a year.

Rumors of Clair's possible dismissal have been denied by the club executive. Vice-president Sam Berger said one of the seven owners might feel that way but would be "speaking only as an individual."

There have been mutterings about Clair's future. One broadcaster said he was told Clair would be fired if the Riders failed to reach the Grey Cup this year.
